

DEFENSE TECHNOLOGY CONFERENCES

Development of Turkish Defense Industry

Today's wars between Ukraine - Russia and Israel - Hamas have once again revealed the importance of the defense industry in the world. Defense industry; While it is important for countries in terms of national security, it has also become a strategic sector in terms of national economy and foreign relations. Cooperation established with allied and friendly countries in the field of defense industry and exports are also beneficial in strengthening existing political relations and strengthening Türkiye's position in the international arena.
